About Me

I am a very affectionate, active and playful dog. I warm up to people quickly and absolutely adore playing with toys, including ones that the humans have put away and are a little challenging to reach. I love walks and would make a great walking or hiking companion. While I enjoy playing with familiar dogs, I am not comfortable around dogs I have never met and am still learning how to be calm around them.

Picking up tricks and basic skills is a piece of cake for me. I am highly intelligent, driven, and very food-motivated during training sessions. I enjoy learning new behaviours and have been building a strong foundation for entering a crate or vehicle voluntarily. My ideal match would be a loving family who can constantly give me the cuddles I deserve, while being consistent in continuing with my training plan.

About me

I often turn heads due to my handsome looks! As a good communicator, my habit of circling and announcing when I am about to poop is especially useful in knowing when I need to potty. I am intelligent and can pick up new behaviours quickly during training. I also enjoy walks and the company of familiar handlers. Given the chance, I can become an ideal companion of a family! I will do well in a dedicated household that is willing to continue with my rewards-based behaviour modification work.

I love playing with soft toys and food enrichment puzzles, but may become overprotective over my valued resources. I am still learning to be comfortable with sharing my favourite items, but am otherwise friendly with other dogs and warm up to unfamiliar people fairly easily. I am also currently learning to be more confident in exploring new environments, especially enclosed spaces such as buildings, vehicles and lifts. I enjoy the freedom of running about in open spaces with dogs and people I am familiar with.

About Me

I am an amiable, playful, and curious dog that warms up to new people and other dogs quickly. Intelligent and food-motivated, I am most enthusiastic when training and pick up new skills easily. Besides “sit”, “down” and “paw”, the latest in my training repertoire includes “high 10” and simple body conditioning exercises such as weight shifting on a raised platform. I also derive joy from playing with soft toys and any game that involves food. When I find an interesting toy, I can self-entertain for a long while. My easygoing personality and urge to explore mean I am open to trying new things.

I am still finding my confidence when going on walks, as I get spooked by strangers approaching and sudden loud noises. Currently, I am making great progress by walking with another familiar dog. I am also learning to enjoy riding inside a vehicle. I would do great in an active and committed household that can cater to my energy requirements and continue my learning journey through rewards-based training.

About me

I am affectionately known as “Uncle Roger”. If you do not know me, I may appear to be nonchalant at first due to my calm demeanour. However, once I warm up to people, I show my delight upon seeing them by “dancing” with my entire body! I am grass-trained and enjoy my walks very much.

I truly embody the saying – “Old dogs can learn new tricks!” Proficient in skills such as “sit” and “down”, I am also good at recall and cooperative care activities such as lying on my side to be examined and wearing a muzzle. I am very food-motivated.

Even though I have difficulty interacting with other dogs, I am friendly with new people. During moments of solitude, I can often be found resting on my cushioned dog bed. My laidback nature makes me an ideal companion for anyone willing to welcome me into your heart and home.
