

Oriental Pied Hornbill

(Anthracoceros albirostris)

Did you know?

When breeding, the female Oriental Pied Hornbill seals herself inside her nest, usually a tree hole, using a plaster made from mud and fibres. During this time, the male hunts for food and passes the food into the nest through a narrow slit.

nparksbuzz
Share your love for nature with us at
#nparksbuzz